The Project, scheduled for completion in 2025, will provide Saint Kitts with 35.7 MW of solar capacity and 43.6 MWh of battery storage for the delivery of clean, renewable, and reliable energy for 25 years.

The USD-70-million (EUR 57.6m) project will build a 35.7-MW solar photovoltaic (PV) plant and a 14.8-MW/45.7-MWh lithium-ion battery storage system, which are set to become the largest facility of this kind in the Caribbean, according to Leclanche.

St. Kitts was once known as the Gibraltar of the West Indies for its domination of 18th-century colonial battles. How the island rose to become the world's leader in sugarcane cultivation, an inspiration for the industrial revolution in the process.

The Government of St. Kitts and Nevis, along with SKELEC, the state-owned St. Kitts Electricity Company Ltd, have executed an amended Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) with SOLEC Power Ltd, a subsidiary JV of Leclanche, for the solar photovoltaic and battery storage project located in Basseterre.

The solar project on St. Kitts will be oversized, allowing a portion of that electricity to meet current electric demand on the island, and the remainder to charge the large-scale battery storage system to meet island demand after the sun sets.

"The cost of this project to St. Kitts and Nevis citizens is zero," said Bryan Urban, Executive Vice President and Head of Leclanche's Stationary Business Unit. "It is being fully ...
