

Do photovoltaic panels need to be updated

Are solar panels a legal requirement for new homes?

Even though installing solar panels on new builds is a great way to set new homes up with renewable energy from day one, it's not yet a legal requirement. One common problem is that developers don't use all the available roof space, resulting in a less effective solar panel system.

Should you upgrade or replace your solar panels?

Old solar panels, while still functional, might not be harnessing solar energy as effectively as the newer models. Replacing or upgrading to a more advanced model can thus translate to more electricity generation from the same square footage. Economic logic often drives homeowners and businesses to consider upgrades.

Are old solar panels better than new solar panels?

Over the past few decades, the efficiency of solar panels - how well they convert sunlight into electricity - has seen significant improvements. 2. Old solar panels, while still functional, might not be harnessing solar energy as effectively as the newer models.

Are solar panels a good idea for a new build?

Understand the current regulations surrounding solar panels on new builds, and whether they'll change soon. By incorporating solar panels, developers enhance the property's energy performance, and also make it more attractive to eco-conscious buyers looking to save time and effort on forking out the high upfront cost of solar panels.

When will solar panels be mandatory?

In March 2024, the European Parliament approved a law requiring solar panels on all new residential buildings by 2030. The EU Solar Standard makes it mandatory for member states to gradually include solar installations in new public, commercial, and residential buildings.

Are solar panels compulsory in the UK?
