

Mogadishu, 10 August 2022 - The annual summit on Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) concluded in Mogadishu on Tuesday, with a call for youth in Somalia to embrace sciences in order to drive the country's path to sustainable recovery and transformation.

A Somali woman is pushing the amplification of STEM, technical, and vocational education in Somalia; International partners and government could help bridge the gap in the education system by supporting the existing local eco-system of solutions and local leaders.

3 ???· The Somali STEM summit (7-9th August) concluded today in Mogadishu, Somalia. This years theme was in "Sustainable Impact" bringing together Somalis from around the world.

A Somali woman is pushing the amplification of STEM, technical, and vocational education in Somalia; International partners and government could help bridge the gap in the education system by supporting the existing local ...

Mogadishu, 10 August 2022 - The annual summit on Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) concluded in Mogadishu on Tuesday, with a call for youth in Somalia to embrace sciences in order to drive the country's ...

Web: <https://www.ecomax.info.pl>

